DETAILED ACTION

This application has been examined. The claims 1-6 are allowed.

Reasons For Allowance

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The present invention is directed to a computer cursor pointing device with an integrally formed electric stimulator comprising a casing having a top surface and a cavity therein; a first electrode mounted a the top surface of the casing; a second electrode which is mounted at the top surface of the casing and is disposed in close proximity to the first electrode. The combination of the closest prior art of Lai (US 6,323,841), Wilson (US 5,540,235) and Prass (2003/0088185) showed a similar invention, however, they fail to teach that a stimulator circuit for generating a pair of stimulating signals to the first electrode and the second electrode respectively; wherein when a user puts his hand on the top surface of the casing to operate the pointing device, the stimulating signals from the stimulator circuit are transmitted to the first electrode and the second electrode to perform an electric stimulation to the user's hand, said electric stimulator simultaneously operable during use of the pointing device as claim 1.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
